Happy Birthday Brother Swaggart!

-March 15-

Jesus Christ is the source for all things we receive from God, while the Cross is the means.
This album is in the same vein as the Psalms album. I am reading particular passages of Scripture over the music. I guarantee that it will be a blessing to you. The response that we have had, and continue to have, for the Psalms CD is exceptional. This one, we think, if anything, will be even better—it will bless you!

The Temple (09-145)
King Solomon, who typified Christ as the Prince of Peace, was chosen to build the temple that represented redemption and the coming kingdom age. Everything pertaining to this glorious palace of Jehovah portrayed God’s grace and His glory. Not only was the temple a forepicture of the Kingdom of our Lord to come, but it also foreshadowed the believer’s place and relationship in Christ. In a book based on more than 60 years of Bible study, Brother Swaggart examines the relationship between the temple of old and today’s Christian, including the burnished brass pillars that glowed from the reflection of the rising sun. The author reveals how these ornamental pillars, typified by the child of God, reflected a brilliance that emanated solely from the Light of the World—Christ Jesus.

“And let them be for lights in the firmament of the heaven to give light upon the earth: and it was so. And God made two great lights; the greater light to rule the day, and the lesser light to rule the night: he made the stars also. And God set them in the firmament of the heaven to give light upon the earth, And to rule over the day and over the night, and to divide the light from the darkness: and God saw that it was good. And the evening and the morning were the fourth day. And God said, Let the waters bring forth abundantly the moving creature that hath life, and fowl that may fly above the earth in the open firmament of heaven. And God created great whales, and every living creature that the waters brought forth abundantly, after their kind, and every winged fowl after his kind: and God saw that it was good.” —Genesis 1:15-21

Though the sun and the planets are so far distant from us, yet this does not interrupt their light and influence. The spiritual lesson we must derive from that is distance cannot hinder us from receiving the benefit of God's care. Though God's influence is in heaven, His eye beholds the children of men. So, we aren't to allow distance, either in place or condition, to hinder our desires for the good of others.

Created And Made

“And God made two great lights; the greater light to rule the day, and the lesser light to rule the night: he made the stars also” (Gen. 1:16).

This alludes to the sun and the moon. In fact, the moon has no light within itself. It is a reflection of the sun, hence, much lesser, exactly as the Scripture says.

Modern man scoffs at the idea that God, merely by His word, could make the sun, plus all the planetary bodies, and even the universe. He scoffs, as well, at God's creation of man and, actually, the entirety of all things as they were created by God. In essence, he denies that there is a God!

The words created and made should be distinguished when they are read. The difficulties that science—imperfect and limited—finds here have been satisfactorily discussed by able commentators, and their arguments need not be repeated, except to draw attention to these important and distinctive words—created and made.

For example, the Lord created the sun,
Animate Life

“And God said, Let the waters bring forth abundantly the moving creature that has life, and fowl that may fly above the earth in the open firmament of heaven” (Gen. 1:20).

Verse 20 proclaims the creation of fish and birds. The Pulpit Commentary says, “Here the creatures of the sea are distinguished from all previous creations, and in particular from vegetation, as being possessed of a vital principle; this does not, of course, contradict the well-known truth that plants are living organisms; only that the life principle of the animal kingdom is different from that of the vegetable kingdom.”

The way verse 20 is translated leaves the impression that the fish and the fowl were made from the waters; however, Genesis 2:19 refutes that. The idea is, the “waters” (seas, rivers, lakes, oceans) swarmed with every kind of fish. Exactly how God created the fish, for instance, we aren’t told. It was probably done by divine command. As it regards the “fowl of the air,” Genesis 2:19 says that the Lord formed these “out of the ground.”

After His Kind

“And God created great whales, and every living creature that moves, which the waters brought forth abundantly, after their kind, and every winged fowl after his kind: and God saw that it was good” (Gen. 1:21).

By the use of the phrases, “After their kind” and “after his kind,” this verse emphasizes the different species that are created.

Some 10 times in Chapter 1 of Genesis, moon, and stars at some unknown period of time in the beginning. Afterward, when preparing the earth for man, He made, i.e., pointed them in relation to the earth (regulated them) as light-holders, as measurers of time, and as vehicles of revelation (Ps. 19).

God

“And God set them in the firmament of the heaven to give light upon the earth, and to rule over the day and over the night, and to divide the light from the darkness: and God saw that it was good. And the evening and the morning were the fourth day” (Gen. 1:17-19).

The life of man is governed here largely by the order of the material universe, but as he becomes a true child of God, he rises to a dominion over the sun, moon, and stars. In fact, the consciousness of fellowship with God is a sense of moral superiority to material things. Man is earthy first and then heavenly. Human nature is developed under the rule of sun, moon, and stars, but is warped and twisted because of sin. In the world to come, where there aren't told. It was probably done by divine command. As it regards the “fowl of the air,” Genesis 2:19 says that the Lord formed these “out of the ground.”

By the use of the phrases, “After their kind” and “after his kind,” this verse emphasizes the different species that are created.

Some 10 times in Chapter 1 of Genesis, the phrase, “After his kind,” or similar, is used. This completely shoots down the theory of evolution. Science has never been able to cross that barrier and, in fact, will never be able. In other words, there is no such thing as an animal that is half fish and half land animal. As well, there is no such thing as a fish that is half whale and half shark. The barrier regarding the different kinds remains and ever shall remain.

The same can be said for man. There is no such thing as a creature that is half man and half animal. To be sure, if evolution were a true science, there would be some evidence of such in the world. False science answers that by claiming that the evolutionary process takes many millions or even billions of years; however, even if that were true, which it’s not, there would still be some creatures in the world that are part animal and part man. In fact, there would be mutations of every kind.

Mutations

If the rabbit did actually evolve from the frog, or whatever, there would be scores of creatures at different stages. However, that doesn’t exist and, in fact, has never existed because the iron barrier of “after his kind,” as originally created by God, cannot be changed. While man can produce a mule by the crossbreeding of a horse and a donkey, the mule is then sterile and cannot reproduce itself.

Actually, the evolutionary process fails in every capacity. Plants, for instance, do not get better and better, but rather tend to degenerate if left on their own, which is the opposite of the so-called evolutionary process.

To make plants better or fruit trees bear more luscious fruit, man has to work with these plants or trees in order to bring out their best.

It is the same with horses. If the breed is left unattended, it will degenerate. So, man has to work with horses in the realm of breeding to perfect thoroughbreds, etc.

There are at least two processes that debunk evolution:

1. The first is the iron barrier of the species, which cannot be crossed.
2. The second problem is degeneration, even as we have already addressed.

Evolution

Can a person be a Christian and also believe in evolution? No, he cannot. To believe in evolution is to disbelieve the Bible, and to disbelieve the Bible is to disbelieve God.

“Can a person be a Christian and also believe in evolution? No, he cannot.”

Some so-called Christians attempt to cover this by claiming that they believe in evolution, and that God is the one who has created all things, but that He did it by evolution. Once again, this flies in the face of the Word of God.

Not only is evolution unbiblical, but at the same time, it is unscientific. I read just the other day of the death of a particular man in England, who exposed the Piltdown hoax. This was a skeleton found in a certain part of England, which was supposed to prove the evolutionary process. He found that the skeleton had been doctored with plaster of Paris, or whatever, to make it seem to be something it wasn’t. He exposed the fraud, which meant that many schoolbooks had to be rewritten.

If the evolutionary conception is true, it naturally follows that the biblical account cannot be accepted in its literal interpretation. One of these accounts pictures the different species and general types as coming into existence gradually out of preexisting ones, whereas the other represents them as created by a divine fiat.

The Bible And Evolution Cannot Be Harmonized

All efforts to harmonize Genesis with evolution lead at best to the negative conclusion that these two are so far different in their purpose and scope as not to involve radical contradiction. A positive agreement between them simply cannot be claimed.

The general theories of evolution are not proving true in either the biological or geological field. This fact is so true that one scientific observer has aptly remarked that the present vogue of these theories in the popular and pseudo-scientific mind may be likened to the continued, though dwindling, activities of a central commercial trust, whose supporting subsidiary companies had all gone into bankruptcy. Furthermore, it is highly significant that many, who at first were fascinated by the generalizations of evolution, turned from it after further examination of its proffered evidences and more mature consideration of its claims.

The truth is, evolution is not a fact of science but a dogma of philosophy. Both its history and its essential nature prove that it belongs primarily to the realm of subjective speculation and not to the field of objective fact.

Unchristian

It is significant that the idea of evolution originated in heathen and pagan minds and was not a native product of the Christian intellect, which means that it’s not biblical.

The general run of modern definitions of evolution is also not completely independent of any thought of a living God but, for the most part, is either directly antagonistic to that thought or irreconcilable with it. In fact, the standard definitions of evolution, which are given by real evolutionists, are, therefore, consistently and completely in line with anti-God theories.

Actually, as it regards evolution, that is, if one takes it to its final conclusion, there is no God and no need for God. In fact, all definitions of evolution, of necessity, have to substitute blind force and mere chance for the creative power of a living God. Those who try to reconcile these theories with the Christian system of truth assert that such is not the case, yet the definitions given—and many others that might be given—prove that God is, of necessity, ruled out in favor of chance. Evolution must be seen to be diametrically opposed to the Christian system of thought at all essential points.

Opposed To Real Christianity

Some claim that an all-powerful God could have made the world and created man and woman by evolutionary process if He had so desired and willed. However, the Bible revelation tells us that He did not so make the world, man, and woman, and that we may stand upon that revelation with full assurance. In the words of Professor Mullins, Professor Machen, and Dr. Conrad, evolution leads to a type of religion that is radically different from Christianity and, as well, diametrically opposed to Bible Christianity.

A final and conclusive consideration in this whole problem of alleged evolution is that there is evidence on all sides, going to prove that the whole world and all that is in it is running down, degenerating, and moving toward some climax of judgment and re-creation, even as the Bible says, instead of ever evolving upward into higher and better forms.

Chemistry

It is most significant that in the science of chemistry, through which we come closest to the deeper facts and forces of both inanimate matter and life, there is no evidence of any resident urge upward. Not only is it true that the laws of chemical affinity seem to be static and unchangeable as to their operations, but it is now known that there is a disintegrating tendency downward instead of upward that seems characteristic of all matter. In other words, there is a degeneration, even as previously stated.

It is not true that we came up from the slime and the beast through the jungle, and that we pass out into a night of oblivion unlighted by a single star. It is true that “in the beginning God created the heavens and the earth” and that He made “man in His own image.”

It is true that we came from God through the garden, and that we are destined by obedience to Him to an eternity of joy in a land that is fairer than day, where we will meet again our loved ones who went before, and upon whose blissful shore there falls no shadow and rests no stain.

Again, we irrevocably state that a person cannot claim biblical Christianity and at the same time believe in paganistic evolution, and there is no other type of evolution but that which is paganistic.

(The author is grateful to John Roach Stratton for most of the material given above regarding evolution.)
Have you ever had the privilege of watching a person respond to an altar call? It’s just beautiful to witness the Holy Spirit at work, gently convicting at the same time drawing a lost soul toward the altar. You can almost hear Him. “Come,” He pleads, “to the Cross of the Lord Jesus Christ.” As that man, woman, boy, or girl responds and steps out in faith, they come, oftentimes weeping as they feel, for the very first time, the love and presence of God.

Forgive Us As We Forgive

By Frances Swaggart

Once at the altar, they are led in the sinner’s prayer: “Dear God in heaven. I come to You in Jesus’ name. I’m sorry for my sins, for the way that I’ve lived, and for the things I have done. Please forgive me ....”

And God, in His amazing grace—and for Christ’s sake—forgives.

From that moment on, every child of God knows how to ask for the Father’s forgiveness, and how happy and relieved he is to receive it.

The thing is, when it comes to forgiving others, a lot of Christians think it should work the same way—the offender comes to the offended, repents, and asks for forgiveness. Otherwise, they say, forgiveness cannot be granted.

But this type of thinking is completely untrue.

Forgiving One Another

When someone hurts or offends you, it doesn’t matter if that person ever asks for your forgiveness—and, by the way, most people won’t. Still, as believers in the Lord Jesus Christ, we need to forgive.

Think about it. When someone offends you, hurts you, or causes you heartache, and you refuse to forgive, your only alternative is unforgiveness, and that’s a sin.

Ephesians 4:30-32 says, “And grieve not the Holy Spirit of God, whereby ye are sealed unto the day of redemption. Let all bitterness, and wrath, and anger, and clamor, and evil speaking, be put away from you, with all malice: And be ye kind one to another, tenderhearted, forgiving one another, even as God for Christ’s sake hath forgiven you.”

When we choose unforgiveness, we commit nearly every sin listed in the verses above. Worse yet, the Lord calls an unforgiving person “wicked.” That’s the word Jesus used in Matthew 18 when he told of a man who was forgiven a monetary debt—in the millions, if not billions, in today’s money—but then refuses to forgive a fellow servant a debt of a few hundred dollars. Let’s pick up the story in verse 29.
FRANCES SWAGGART

out of The Expositor’s Study Bible:

“And his fellow-servant fell down at his feet, and besought him, saying, Have patience with me, and I will pay you all (basically says the same thing, as the first debtor had said).

“...and likewise, show the same spirit toward others, who owe us much less than we owe the Lord."

And his lord was wroth (angry), and delivered him to the tormentors, till he should pay all that was due unto him (lack of forgiveness of others revokes the forgiveness of God to us—a sobering thought!).

So likewise shall My heavenly Father do also unto you, if you from your hearts forgive not every one his brother their trespasses (true forgiveness comes from the heart, and God knows when it is true) (Mat. 18:29-35).

What the Lord is saying here is very, very serious because if we don’t have a forgiving spirit and attitude, then the Lord is not going to forgive us. So where does that put us when we go to Him and say, “Lord please forgive me for doing thus and so”?

I Just Can’t Forgive

Maybe you’re reading this and thinking, “Frances, if you only knew what so-and-so did to me, then you would understand why I can’t ever forgive—or forget.”

Believe me when I say that I do understand how deeply people can hurt one another. For all of our time in ministry, not a day goes by that we don’t receive calls, letters, and emails from believers who are trying to cope with the pain attached to a wrong they’ve suffered at the hands of another. Here’s a sampling of what we’ve received in days past:

- A drunk driver killed my best friend.
- My father raped me, more than once.
- A doctor prescribed the wrong medication and my grandfather died.
- My mother left me when I was 4 years old, and I don’t know why.
- A coworker lied about me in front of our boss, and I was fired.
- My children live nearby and could visit me, but they don’t.
- My parents made me get an abortion when I was 15.

As you might imagine, the details of such trespasses are heartbreaking and—without the Lord’s help—the pain from these kinds of cuts keeps right on hurting. Why? Because the offense and the offender are locked up tight in the heart of that believer. Even if you did nothing wrong and even though you were the one who was deeply hurt, still, holding to an offense will, over time, build an internal prison around your own heart.

Think for a moment about what a prison is and what it does. A prison has high, thick, cement walls and steel doors purposely designed to confine, enclose, and restrain anyone or anything from coming in or going out. Therefore, as jailers, we make it extremely difficult for others—including the Lord—to help us.

So the person who refuses to let others go free remains, himself, in bondage.

Joseph

If you still think that you can’t forgive someone who has hurt you, then think about Joseph. He was hated by his brothers. His own brothers—his family—hated him. They wanted to murder Joseph, but settled instead on selling him into slavery. So there Joseph was, a slave in a strange land. He became a servant in the house of a nobleman where he was falsely accused of attempted rape. Joseph was completely innocent, but he was still sent to prison. Yet in all of Joseph’s trials, he never once blamed his brothers or anyone else. Instead, he forgave, and I believe it was his forgiving spirit that kept the Bible repeating, “and the Lord was with Joseph.” Eventually, the Lord promoted Joseph to the high position of viceroy of Egypt.

When Jacob died, Joseph’s brothers became fearful and said, “Joseph will perhaps hate us, and will certainly requite us all the evil which we did unto him” (Gen. 50:15).

Anyone who trespasses against another knows in his heart “all the evil” he has done. But look at what Joseph said to them:

“Fear not: for am I in the place of God? (The question of Joseph, in effect, says, “I am not the judge and, therefore, I do not punish. If any punishment is meted out, it will be God who does it, and not me. You have nothing to fear from me.”) But as for you, you thought evil against me; but God meant it unto good, to bring to pass, as it is this day, to save much people alive. (This verse holds one of the greatest promises found in the entirety of the Word of God. God can take the evil which is planned against the believer, that is, if the believer will fully trust, and turn it to good, until there is nothing left but good.) (Gen. 50:19-20) (The Expositor’s Study Bible).

So we see here that the very one whom Joseph’s brothers sold into slavery and wanted to kill was the same one whom the Lord would use to preserve their lives. That’s powerful!

As we see in this story, forgiveness doesn’t mean the offender gets away with anything. But like Joseph, we need to understand that we are not judges. The Lord knows all that’s been done and He will always do what is right.

Also, it’s important that you realize this: Forgiving someone doesn’t mean that you have to go back into a relationship with the person who offended you. In fact, depending on the circumstance, that may not even be possible; the person who hurt you may be unreachable, or perhaps even passed away. The important thing is for you to forgive, for your sake.

Fruitful In The Land Of My Affliction

Finally, the next step after forgiving someone is to forget what was done to hurt you. Will the offense you suffered be wiped clean from your mind? No, but the Lord is able to take the sting and pain of that trespass away to where seeing that person no longer triggers hurt or anger in your heart.

This became a truth to Joseph in the naming of his children: “And Joseph called the name of the firstborn Manasseh: For God, said he, has made me forget all my toil, and all my father’s house (this speaks of his brothers who sold him into slavery). And the name of the second called he Ephraim: For God has caused me to be fruitful in the land of my affliction” (Gen. 41:51-52). Notice that the Lord made Joseph fruitful after he forgot.

Paul said, “Brethren, I count not myself to have apprehended: but this one thing I do, forgetting those things which are behind, and reaching forth unto those things which are before, I press toward the mark for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus” (Phil. 3:13-14).

Paul is telling us that it’s more important to let the past be the past and press forward with the Lord. God’s going to take care of the people who have trespassed against us. Our job is to forgive, forget, and press on toward the Lord Jesus Christ who has forgiven us of so much.

As Charles Spurgeon once said, “Some of us have had so much manifest forgiveness, so much outward sin forgiven, that for us to forgive ought to be as natural as to open our hands.”
THE TRUTH ABOUT COMMON CORE (15-648)
In this four-segment series, Frances Swaggart and her distinguished panel of educators discuss the subject of the Common Core State Standard Initiative, now adopted by 46 states to standardize public school curriculums. Learn how this educational reform is hurting students.

“The LORD is my shepherd; I shall not want. He makes me to lie down in green pastures: He leads me beside the still waters. He restores my soul: He leads me in the paths of righteousness for His name’s sake. Yes, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil: for You are with me; Your rod and Your staff they comfort me. You prepare a table before Me in the presence of mine enemies: You anoint My head with oil; My cup runneth over. Surely goodness and mercy shall follow Me all the days of My life: and I will dwell in the house of the LORD forever” —Psalm 23

The Lord Is My Shepherd

This psalm, written by David, was written from the perspective of the sheep rather than the shepherd’s. Psalm 23 may very well represent the greatest height of inspiration ever given to a frail mortal.

The theme of this psalm is not so much what the Lord gives to us or does for us, but rather what and who the Lord is. It shows us that everything the Lord did, He did it for us.

The Lord Is My Shepherd

The word Lord, as used here in the Hebrew, is Jehovah-roi, which literally means “the Lord is my shepherd.” As well, the title of Lord, as used here, also means “Jehovah-jireh”—the Lord our provider. This phrase makes it clear that there is no other shepherd and no other provider except for the Lord of glory.

The word shepherd means “to tend a flock.” All of this tells us that the believer is under the care of the true shepherd, Jesus Christ. Everything we need is found in Christ, the true shepherd, and guaranteed by His death on Calvary’s Cross and His resurrection. Our shepherd is the only shepherd who can save the sinner, heal the sick, raise the dead, walk on water, turn water into wine, calm the storm, multiply the fish and loaves, and cleanse lepers.

I Shall Not Want

This phrase covers everything that we need. Whatever we need—physically, spiritually, financially, and emotionally—is found in Christ. Our shepherd desires us to walk and live in victory with our needs met. There is no lack as it regards what the Great Shepherd can do for His sheep who will believe Him.

He Makes Me To Lie Down In Green Pastures

The pronoun He actually says “Jehovah-shalom”—the Lord our peace. He gives to His sheep peace—satisfying peace and justifying peace. The term “green pastures” proclaims to us a bountiful supply.
He Leads Me By The Still Waters
This phrase actually means “water of refreshing.” This world is a desert place, and there is no living water to be found except in Christ. The leading He does is always to the Word of God, with the Bible being the revealed body of truth that has been given to mankind. The Bible is our “green pastures” and “waters of refreshing.” The Bible contains the answer to every problem that plagues the human heart.

He Restores My Soul: He Leads Me In The Paths Of Righteousness For His Name’s Sake
The first “He” in this verse is Jehovah-ropha—The Lord our healer. The second “He” in this verse is Jehovah-tsidkenu—the Lord our righteousness.

The phrase, “He restores my soul,” refers to the soul being revived and reinvigorated. At times, life gets hard and our soul gets heavy, but if we yield to the Lord and depend on Him, He will restore and reinvigorate.

“Paths of righteousness” means paths of pleasantness and peace. Only the Lord Jesus Christ can provide for us paths of righteousness. He alone knows these paths, and He does it for His name’s sake. In other words, God blesses us for Jesus’ sake, because He is the one who paid the price for the things we need.

As the Lord is the only one who knows the right path, this strongly implies that there are false paths that lead to destruction. You must know the right path, and the right path is Jesus Christ.

Next month, we will finish the rest of this psalm.
Light Of Liberty
Men and women came to the New World in hopes of establishing a new nation—a free nation unbound by kings, popes, and religious oppression, and a nation whose cornerstone was God's Word alone, in which freedom and liberty were rights for all. An overwhelming majority of America's Founding Fathers were Christian, but even those who were not understood that the foundation of this fledgling country was rooted in Christian doctrine. In this book, Evangelist Donnie Swaggart and Justin Nicholson lead readers from Plymouth Rock to Pennsylvania Avenue and from the Declaration of Independence to the Bill of Rights showing how the United States of America was not a grand experiment but rather the ultimate testament to any nation founded on the Word of God through a personal relationship with Jesus Christ. Church, Read The Book Of Acts And Get Ready!
The book of Acts is perhaps summarized best in two words: And suddenly. From the time those early believers heard that rushing mighty wind and were all filled with the Holy Spirit, the first church was suddenly baptized with fire and spoke with other tongues; suddenly empowered to preach the gospel; and suddenly emboldened to stand for the Lord Jesus Christ in the face of deadliest persecution. While much of the church today both grieves and ignores the Holy Spirit, there is a growing remnant of people who believe that the book of Acts is a necessary blueprint for Christians today. In this anointed book, Evangelist Donnie Swaggart educates the saved and the unsaved on the person, power, and role of the Holy Spirit. Readers will rediscover the book of Acts—a miraculous sampling of what the Holy Spirit can accomplish as the Comforter and Helper through a believer’s faith in Jesus Christ and Him crucified. (228 pages, hardcover)

Brother Swaggart, Here Is My Question...
In its 60-year history, Jimmy Swaggart Ministries has received literally millions of letters and emails from believers who have questions about Christian life and living. In response to these heartfelt inquiries, Brother Swaggart initiated the Here Is My Question series. In this very first volume, he turns to the Scriptures to address topics including: Where Satan and demons come from, what it means to actually blaspheme the Holy Spirit, the difference between the great white throne judgment and the judgment seat of Christ, infant baptism, the Christian position on social drinking, abortion, homosexuality, evolution, capital punishment, and contemporary gospel music in the church. Readers are presented with answers to these questions and more, taken directly from the Word of God—the road map for believers and the blueprint for eternity. (426 pages, hardcover)

Brother Swaggart, How Can I Understand The Bible?
The Bible does not merely contain the Word of God; it is the Word of God, which makes it the most important book in existence and the only source of true spiritual light. In this volume of the Here Is My Question series, Brother Swaggart draws from his lifelong study of God’s Word to teach on the doctrines of the Bible. A sampling of the subjects covered includes the doctrines of grace, justification by faith, sin, the Lord Jesus Christ, and the baptism with the Holy Spirit. This in-depth study also explores the history of the original Bible manuscripts and a chronology marking the dramatic story of how the Bible was translated. Readers will also learn the steps in properly understanding the Word of God, including revelation, inspiration, and illumination. (528 pages, hardcover)

“And Jesus went about all the cities and villages, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing every sickness and every disease among the people. But when He saw the multitudes, He was moved with compassion on them, because they fainted, and were scattered abroad, as sheep having no shepherd. Then said He unto the disciples, The harvest truly is plenteous, but the laborers are few; pray you therefore the Lord of the harvest, that He will send forth laborers into His harvest.” —Matthew 9:35-38

The Mission of Every Believer

I want to look at just how important it is for every single believer to be a soul winner and to truly grasp and understand just how important that our mission really is, for if it was important to Jesus Christ, then it should be extremely important to us.

Teaching And Preaching

Looking at Christ’s earthly ministry, I think the Word of God is overly clear as to His objective—the Cross—and He would give everything to see that objective through. But before Calvary, He would spend three and one-half years teaching, preaching, and performing miracles. In other words, His ministry was evangelism. In fact, the word evangelize is synonymous with Christianity, so much so that the definition of evangelize, according to Webster’s New World Dictionary is this: “to convert to Christianity,” and “to preach the gospel.”

That is exactly what Christ did during His three and one-half years of earthly ministry—He preached the gospel. Christ’s way of proclaiming and communicating the Scriptures was by teaching and preaching. Teaching refers to the imparting of scriptural knowledge and instilling doctrine. It means to explain the Bible. Christ was the greatest teacher of the Word who has ever lived, and it was simply because of His knowledge of the Word and the anointing of the Holy Spirit upon His life, for He was truly full of the Holy Spirit without measure (Jn. 3:34).

Preaching refers to the proclamation of the truth. Teaching was predominant in the Old Testament, while preaching was predominant in the New Testament. Preaching and teaching have always been God’s method of promulgating the gospel, so much so that Paul the Apostle would write, “For after that in the wisdom of God the world by wisdom knew not God, it pleased God by the foolishness of preaching to save them who believe” (1 Cor. 1:21).

However, when it comes to preaching and teaching now, it must hinge on one thing: the Message of the Cross. Paul would also write a couple of verses later, “But we preach Christ crucified, unto the Jews a stumbling block, and unto the Greeks foolishness” (I Cor. 1:23).

Now that the new covenant has been given, it must center on the finished work of Christ, without exception. When Jesus used the words, “gospel of the kingdom” in Matthew 9:35, those words primarily refer to all that Christ bought and all that Christ brought through His death, burial, and resurrection. God has chosen preaching and teaching as His predominate method, and if we choose to move away from His method, then the results will never be favorable.

He Was Sent To Israel First
Not only was preaching and teaching His predominate method, but He also did this all around the nation of Israel. During His first advent, Christ’s earthly ministry was centered around the nation of Israel (Matt. 15:24). However, though His ministry revolved around Israel, it would eventually lead all around the world. The reason for His earthly ministry being geared toward Israel was due to the many prophecies that were given regarding the nation of Israel and the plan of God. The Jewish people are His people, and all of the tremendously important promises that are given in the Word of God were for these people. As a result, the “gospel of the kingdom” must begin with them, and not the Gentile world.

Does this mean that God never intended for the gospel to venture out into the rest of the world? Actually, it was the very opposite. It was always God’s plan for the entirety of the world to hear and receive the gospel, for that’s why this gospel must be a “whosoever will” gospel. God told Abraham that “in you shall all families of the earth be blessed,” (Gen. 12:3).

I am a result of the gospel of Jesus Christ that has since gone around the world, and so is every single Gentile who has ever named the name of Jesus Christ. I am a Gentile, even though born in Baton Rouge, Louisiana, here in these great United States of America, but nonetheless, I am not of Jewish decent, so, therefore, I am a Gentile. It was always God’s plan for the gospel to venture around the world, but when Jesus came the first time, He had to go to Israel first, and if they would have truly accepted Him the first go around, then things would have been much different. Nevertheless, they didn’t, and the Gentiles would.

“IT WAS ALWAYS GOD’S PLAN FOR THE ENTIRETY OF THE WORLD TO HEAR AND RECEIVE THE GOSPEL...”

Healing The Sick
Our opening passage of Scripture also says that He went about healing the sick. Let me be clear on this topic: I believe in divine healing. I say that because I have experienced divine healing in my life. Many of you might recall my miracle, but for those of you who may not, allow me to repeat it.

It was the fall of 1996, and I was set to graduate from high school in May of 1997. As would be obvious, I was a senior in high school, and I was a 2-year starter on our varsity basketball team. I was the starting point guard, which meant that I was looked at as an extension of our head coach, Sam Lopez, and the offense ran through me.

It was in the month of October on a Tuesday night and our first game of the year. We were playing at our home gym. The second quarter was coming to an end, and, while dribbling the ball up the court on what I would call a semi-fast break, I tried to stop, but my foot landed on a wet spot right across the half court line, and my knee hyperextended. But that wasn’t the worst of it. As my knee hyperextended, an opposing player, whom I had played against since middle school, decided that he was going to put pressure to stop my forward progression. So, as he was running at nearly full speed, his knee hit my hyperextended knee, and bent it in a way that a knee should never be bent. The pain was unbearable, and in my mind, I wondered just how much damage was done.

The next night was Wednesday, and I stayed home from church. I was in a tremendous amount of pain and figured that my basketball career had ended. Then, at around 8:30 p.m., my father came home, ran up the stairs, barged into my room, and told me that the Lord has spoken to him and told him that He was going to heal me. Dad prayed for me, and the Spirit of God fell in my bedroom. He got up from praying and said, “You’re healed,” and walked out. I was lying on the floor with my knee propped up, and then it happened: I watched as that swollen, discolored knee went back to normal. It was a miracle! It was my miracle!

So, I have experienced divine healing, and, for those who don’t believe in divine healing, well, my word to you is that you may have an argument, but I have an experience, and I would much rather have an experience than an argument.

Why Does God Chooses To Heal Some And Not Others?
When it comes to divine healing, as I have stated any number of times, I don’t understand why God chooses to heal some and not others, but it doesn’t change the fact that I believe that His Word declares, “I am the Lord that heals you” (Ex. 15:26).

I would be lying to you if I said that I knew all there was to know about divine healing, and anyone that tells you that they understand divine healing is lying. But in His ultimate wisdom, He knows why He chooses to heal some and not others.

Next month, we will continue on this topic in our article series on discipleship.
Professing Themselves To Be Wise, They Became Fools
Just days following the U.S. Supreme Court’s decision to legalize same-sex marriage in all 50 states, Pastor Donnie Swaggart points believers back to the Bible and the Supreme Judge over all the earth—the Lord Jesus Christ—and His righteousness.

Includes:
- Some Golden Daybreak (Jimmy Swaggart)
- God Bless The U.S.A. (Randy Knaps and the FWC singers)
- Sermon: Professing Themselves To Be Wise, They Became Fools

A Song Of Praise In The Morning
Psalms is not only a book of songs, it’s also a book of prophecy. In this anointed message, Pastor Donnie Swaggart draws from Psalm 30 to preach on the power of praise before, during, and after a night of weeping.

Includes:
- Praise & Worship (Joseph Larson)
- He’s Amazing (FWC Choir)
- His Name Is Jesus (Kim Coleman)
- House Of Gold (Jimmy Swaggart)
- Sermon: A Song Of Praise In The Morning

The Evil Work
Pastor Donnie Swaggart boldly addresses the most controversial topic facing the church and America today: the dangerous, false religion of Islam and its deadly agenda against American lives, liberty, and values. Every Christian must hear and heed this timely message.

Includes:
- He’s My Ever Present Help In Time Of Need (FWC Choir)
- Mended Vessel (Greg Coleman)
- America The Beautiful (Jimmy Swaggart)
- Sermon: The Evil Work

Upon This Rock I Will Build My Church And The Gates Of Hell Shall Not Prevail Against It
In this anointed message, Pastor Donnie Swaggart takes believers and unbelievers to Matthew 16, back to the rock—the Lord Jesus—and the true church. He then reminds Christians who they are in Christ—the church of the living God.

Includes:
- Praise & Worship (Joseph Larson)
- Come See A Man (FWC Choir)
- What He’s Done For Me (Tara Montpetit)
- Sermon: Upon This Rock I Will Build My Church And The Gates Of Hell Shall Not Prevail Against It
Heaven’s Jubilee Songbook
Godly music brings joy to the heart, lifts the soul, and strengthens faith. In this songbook, Evangelist and song stylist Jimmy Swaggart offers a collection of 75 gospel favorites that are sure to bless anyone who enjoys the praise and worship of our Lord. Brother Swaggart has played every one of these titles to audiences large and small around the world. Now you can also bless listeners with the music and anointed messages of timeless classics such as: “Blessed Assurance,” “I’ll Never Be Lonely Again,” “Mercy Rewrote My Life,” “Turn Your Eyes Upon Jesus,” and “Unworthy Of The Blood.” This spiral-bound book is easy to read and use and, with proper care, will last for many years to come.

100 Favorites
Praise and worship is an integral part of Christian life. Of course everyone has favorite hymns that they like to sing and play to invite the presence of the Lord. This songbook is filled with dozens of your favorites from the classics—“Amazing Grace,” “Go Tell It On The Mountain,” and “Nearer My God To Thee”—to more recent works including “I See Jesus,” “Sometimes Alleluia,” and “There Is a River.” Now you can play these same anointed songs as seen and heard on the SonLife Broadcasting Network, performed by Brother Jimmy Swaggart and the musicians and singers of Family Worship Center. This easy-to-read songbook features four-part harmony arrangements and is spiral bound to ease transitions from song to song. This book is a must-have for any gospel music enthusiast. (176 pages, softcover)

And Sarah Saw
Like Sarah of old, Christians today look for alternate solutions to receive what God has promised. Sarah’s promise was a son, but when the promise delayed, she found a surrogate. Ishmael was the result, and when the promised child Isaac did arrive, Sarah saw Ishmael mocking her son, to the point that her solution nearly killed her promise. In this powerful book, Frances Swaggart uncovers the mockery now taking place in the nation and in the church against the sacred institution of marriage, the education of our children, the Word of God, and the rights and freedoms of the citizens living in the United States of America. This book reminds believers of the spiritual discernment that God gives to Christians to help them see what is good and what is evil. (330 pages, hardcover)

I Just Feel Like Something Good Is About To Happen
Why don’t more Christians anticipate God’s goodness? The struggle to live for the Lord is greater now than perhaps at any other time in the history of the church, and those standing for Christ in the 21st century must understand all that Jesus accomplished at Calvary for the sinner and for the saint. In his debut book, Pastor Gabriel Swaggart leads his readers back to Calvary where believers can rediscover the love, power, and promises of the Lord Jesus Christ and begin anticipating God’s desire to do something good in their lives. (253 pages, hardcover)

Passport To The Impossible
If you ever wondered how far God would go to reach the lost with His Word, then travel with Missionary Jim Woolsey to faraway countries that were once closed to the gospel of Jesus Christ. In this memoir, Brother Woolsey shows how the Spirit of God directed him step by step to get the Jimmy Swaggart telecast on the air in countries dominated by atheism, communism, and Islam so that millions could have the opportunity to hear the gospel preached in their own language. Obedient to the itinerary orchestrated by the Holy Spirit, Brother Jim would travel more than 4 million miles to hand-carry the message of Jesus Christ and Him crucified to be broadcast around the world. To succeed he would need a heart filled with faith and a passport to the impossible. (465 pages, hardcover)

"U.S. OVER-THE-AIR (OTA), LISTINGS"
For those of you who are not familiar with digital television, these are free
"old fashioned TV channels" that are able to be picked up with a digital tuner and antenna. Most new televisions are equipped with built-in digital tuners or you can purchase a tuner from your local electronics store (Best Buy®, Radio Shack®, etc.). As well, you can purchase the proper antenna at your local electronics store. Many viewers under the broadcast signal of the television station can use a small, digital antenna inside the home. For those on the outer edge of the signal or to receive the best signal, an outdoor antenna may be required.
Both indoor and outdoor antennas are available for less than $50!

Build the Wall

By Ross Kibodeaux

The Lord, by His grace, saved me, filled me with the Holy Spirit, and called me to preach at the age of 15. I remember the days following that experience and the excitement that filled my heart.

Being in high school, my peers recognized a radical change in my life—one week I was inviting my friends to parties; the next week I was inviting my friends to church. Only Jesus could effect such a change as this. I was truly born again!

But, shortly after this time, I found that this new desire to serve the Lord was coupled with a misunderstanding as to how to live for God. As much as I truly loved the Lord with all of my heart, I still didn’t know how to live the victorious overcoming Christian life that Jesus promised us in John 10:10. I had experienced life, but I was not experiencing “life more abundantly.”

Nehemiah 1:3 says, “The remnant that are left of the captivity there in the province are in great affliction and reproach: the wall of Jerusalem also is broken down, and the gates thereof are burned with fire.”

These are the words I would use to describe the condition of my Christian walk prior to hearing the Message of the Cross. After a period of time of trying my best to live for God, I found myself much like these Jews in Nehemiah’s day. They had been delivered from Babylon, but the results of sin’s destructive power still lingered. Growing up in church, I knew what my life as a Christian was supposed to look like, and this wasn’t it. I knew this was not God’s will for my life.

Then, one day in 2010, I heard the Message of the Cross, and it changed my life forever. For the first time in my Christian life, as I sat and watched SBN, I felt the Holy Spirit speak to my heart: “This is what you have been searching for.” I would love to say that at that moment every bondage and vice immediately fell off. Of course, such was not the case. But, I now knew my answer for victory, and the Holy Spirit began the work of “rebuilding the wall” in my life.

When I look at Israel’s condition in the beginning of the book of Nehemiah, I see a people who are totally exposed to the attacks of the enemy. This broken wall meant that the Jews would be almost defenseless should anyone come again to ransack the city or temple. I believe that much of the church today falls into the same category. Because of false doctrine and ignorance of the truth, the people of God are left defenseless against a ruthless enemy called sin.

But thank God, just as Nehemiah was moved to action by the condition of God’s people, so, too, has Brother Swaggart and those who are a part of JSM, been moved to action on behalf of God’s people. Thankfully, they didn’t turn a deaf ear to the cries of God’s people, of which I was one. Rather, they answered the call. I firmly believe that what God called Nehemiah to do in his day, is the same thing, spiritually speaking, that God has called JSM and all those who will preach and support the Message of the Cross, to do in this time and hour.

It is the Cross and the Cross alone that has, can, and will deal with the problem of sin. When the wall was constructed in Nehemiah 3, it began with the sheep gate, and it ended with the sheep gate. The sheep gate spoke of the gate used to bring into the city the animals that were to be used for sacrifice in the temple, which ultimately was a type of Christ. What a picture—our salvation begins at the Cross, and it ends at the Cross!

And remember, Nehemiah could not do this work alone. The Bible says that there was a remnant who, “Strengthened their hands for this good work” (Neh. 2:18). Those who were once afflicted, dwelling in the ash-heap of rubble, were now the ones helping Nehemiah to build the wall. I believe there is a remnant in this time and hour throughout the world that will see the importance of joining their hands to the work—preaching the Cross!

Just eight years ago, I was suffering defeat, but now I have been set free all because of Jesus and what He has done for me at Calvary. God has given our family a wonderful church body—Crossway Community Church in Philadelphia, Mississippi—and we are busy building the wall and preaching the Cross!

I want to encourage every preacher with this: Don’t turn a deaf ear to the cries of God’s people. Grab a hammer, grab a sword, and build the wall! Yes, the opposition will be fierce, but nevertheless, “Our God will fight for us” (Neh. 4:20). If not for anyone else, preach it for your brothers and sisters, for your children, and for the next generation.

Preach the Cross and watch God move!

Grab a hammer, grab a sword, and build the wall! Yes, the opposition will be fierce, but nevertheless, “Our God will fight for us” (Neh. 4:20).

The Presence of the Holy Spirit
Dear Evangelist: From the depths of my heart, thanks to SBN. Above all, you know the presence of the Holy Ghost in everything you do. God’s blessing from Sweden. —EMAIL

SBN A Blessing in Viewer’s Home
Dear Evangelist: I am very happy to watch the SBN channel—I am always tuned—this channel is a blessing in my house. Thanks for the opportunity to watch this channel. My prayer is that God will bless this ministry more every day. —BRAZIL

Viewer in Zimbabwe Blessed
Dear Evangelist: I am from Zimbabwe, Africa. I have written to inform you that I am really blessed by your channel. You are a blessing to my life. Your teachings are quite awesome. Thank you so much. —ZIMBABWE

Podcasts, SBN, ESB, Encourage Viewer
Dear Evangelist: I was saved through this ministry some 34 years ago. The Holy Spirit led me back to your TV ministry in the fall of 2010. I think SBN was just getting started. A year or two later, I discovered your podcasts. Since then, I have been listening to them. I listen to The Message of the Cross, Loren Larson, Donnie Swaggart, sometimes Frances & Friends, and the campmeetings. I just want to say thank you for this ministry, the podcasts, and for SBN. While I’m at it, I also purchased your Bible companion app and use it daily. The Expositor’s Study Bible is easy for my old eyes to read, and I like to have it play or read to me as I read. Again, thank you all, those that I see on the programs and those behind the scenes, I pray for you all daily and send support monthly. —EMAIL

JSM Has The “Punch”
Dear Evangelist: I just wish to pass on my best wishes to you and the whole team at Jimmy Swaggart Ministries. My husband and I discovered SBN only a few weeks ago and have been “drenching” ourselves in all that is offered. We are Christians, live in Australia, and both work, however, during our limited free time, our TV is on every night and mornings as well. God has indeed blessed Brother Swaggart who has a true heart and servanthood for

“I wanted to share the experience my son had when he went to one of his youth camps last week. He came home heartbroken. He said, ‘Mom, they were there in body but their souls are lost. They would go to the services, but came out the same.’ At the house, we always have SBN on, and he has seen the difference between Crossfire Youth to the ones that proclaim to be Christians, but their actions speak louder than what they preach. All is show, dance, etc., etc. He said, ‘Mom, God has showed me the spiritual death we have in our youth. We need more youth pastors like Pastor Gabe, filled with the power of the Holy Spirit to guide the youth to a powerful revival!’” —FLORIDA
God. We have been going to church for a long time, but have never experienced the preaching and music ministry that is at JSM. This type of style of preaching is rarely seen today and the music is definitely not the same. A lot of the older songs are not played, which is a shame. Christians need to be challenged during sermons and JSM certainly has the punch that creates this! We find the music really ministers to our hearts and minds. —AUSTRALIA

Message of the Cross Building Lives
Dear Evangelist: Pastor Jimmy Swaggart, I thank God and you for the brilliant ministry that has reached all of Brazil. I always watch the television network that has built many lives with the Message of the Cross. I praise God and the Lord Jesus Christ for your love and help. Pastor Jimmy Swaggart knows that many people need to hear and have an opportunity to truly know the gospel of Jesus; their ministry has done this. —BRAZIL

Obedience Better Than Sacrifice
Dear Evangelist: Many years ago, God shared with us that there will be people who will go to preach to gospel, and there will be people that will need to be senders of the gospel of Jesus Christ. I knew right away that I was a sender; there was no confusion all. God has always blessed me to be able to sow on good ground (not always getting it right); however, with His correction, God has directed my steps. In 2015, I had been paying my tithes and offering into another ministry, but lo and behold, I somehow started receiving SBN on my television, and by the way I did not have any kind of cable or Internet. Right away, I believe that God ordered my steps to start giving into Son Life Broadcasting ministries. I believe that we as Christians have a responsibility to know what the will of God is in every area of our life, and not hindering the work of God. I also learned quickly that obedience is better than sacrifice! —EMAIL

Frances & Friends Sheds Light
Dear Evangelist: I am a Brazilian journalist and language teacher living in a metropolitan region. I am writing to thank all of you for this blessed TV channel, which I am used to watching every day since I discovered it few months ago. I especially appreciate the program Frances & Friends. The program sheds light on the Scriptures and on modern events worldwide based on the Word of God. As a native speaker of Portuguese, the program has also helped me to keep my listening skills. Thank you, and God bless you all. —BRAZIL
In this great message, we see the paradox of how to walk with God properly: stand still—go forward. It's a paradox because God gave Israel two commands that were opposite of each other. How does Israel stand still and go forward at the same time? Even though believers today are far removed from Israel's physical situation, the spiritual truth of God's message to Israel applies to us today. Under the new covenant God is still telling His people today, “Stand still. Go forward.”

“And Moses said unto the people, Fear ye not, stand still, and see the salvation of the LORD, which He will show to you today: for the Egyptians whom you have seen today, ye shall see them again no more forever. The LORD shall fight for you, and you shall hold your peace. And the LORD said unto Moses, Wherefore do you unto Me? speak unto the children of Israel, that they go forward: But lift up your rod, and stretch out your hand over the sea, and divide it: and the children of Israel shall go on dry ground through the midst of the sea” (Ex. 14:13-16).

In justification, we learn we are not righteous before God by our works, regardless of how good or biblical those works may be. We learn that the doing of the Christian disciplines are not the means by which God makes us righteous and victorious over sin. In justification, we learn to rest from our works to be righteous by faith in Christ's finished work on the Cross. Sometimes justification and sanctification by faith can be explained with the one-liner, “It's not in our doing; it's in our believing.”

For the believer who has lived the Christian life trying to be righteous through good works and law, the understanding of justification by faith brings true renewal of the mind. This is why believers say, “It's like I've been saved all over again!”

The understanding of the Message of the Cross for sanctification is truly life-changing. This is equivalent to the Lord telling Israel, “Do not be afraid. Stand still and see the salvation of the Lord. The Lord will fight for you, and you shall hold your peace.” The main difference now is the Lord says to us, “Do not be afraid. Stand still and rest in Christ's finished work on the Cross. By faith, keep your eyes on Jesus and His victory over the enemy for you!”

After the believer begins to rest in Christ's death on the Cross, then comes what I referred to earlier as the “paradox of how to walk with God properly.” God says, “Go forward! Move!” This is equivalent to God’s Word telling us to pray, read and study His Word, gather with other believers, worship, witness, give tithes and offerings, etc. The question becomes, How do I have a diligent prayer life, etc. while resting from my works at the same time? To some believers, there is little to no difficulty at all with this, while other believers can struggle for years with having works in their lives. The reason for the struggle is primarily fear—fear of going back under law. The believer is fearful of making a law out of prayer, Bible reading, etc., so he is timid in his prayer life and other disciplines. If that is you today, allow me to tell you: Do not be afraid. Stop letting fear hinder you from spending time with your Father in prayer. Don’t be timid in the Christian disciplines, but be diligent in seeking God, spreading the gospel around the world, etc.

By faith, you can stand still and go forward at the same time. With your eyes on Jesus and His finished work, seek God’s face, study His Word, worship Him, and tell others about Him. God will part Red Seas for you—He will do the impossible—as you stand still and go forward.

“The question becomes, How do I have a diligent prayer life, etc. while resting from my works at the same time?”
In the last issue of The Evangelist, we began our study entitled, “What Shall We Do with the Law?” I encourage our readers to glance back over that article, if at all possible. In it, we attempted to show that every believer has to arrive at a biblical conclusion as to what his relationship should be with the Old Testament Mosaic law. To be honest, the believer has to determine whether or not he or she will live by law or by grace; and modern-day rules of religion or the ethical standards of any society are as binding and as spiritually unprofitable as attempting to produce righteousness by Mosaic law.

In our first article, we established that all men are born under the law and are subject to its righteous demands. If they fail to accept Christ as their Saviour, they will be judged by the law, that is, the Word of God. We introduced the terminology of the government of grace which is a system of attaining righteousness by faith. And we introduced a terminology of the government of law which is a system of attempting to attain to righteousness by man's efforts or works.

Death Changes Relationships

In Romans 7:1, the Bible states that the law has dominion over a man as long as he is alive. This means that only death could separate an individual from accountability to the law. However, if an individual passes from life to death, the law becomes an inconsequential factor. Paul illustrates this in Romans 7:2-3. These particular verses are easy to misunderstand. Christian authors and commentators oftentimes try to make more of these two illustrations than is necessary. Paul is simply establishing the truth as to how a legal and binding relationship is properly ended.

In Romans 7:2, Paul declares that a married woman is bound to her husband until death. Thus, death changes relationships. In Romans 7:3, Paul declares a second and separate illustration. In this illustration, he states that a man or woman married to each other cannot legally marry someone else unless their first partner dies. Death changes relationships! If a woman, while still married to a living man, legally joins herself to a second partner she is an adulteress. But if her first husband dies, the one to whom she was legally joined and accountable to, she is freed from all the legal trappings that joined her to her first husband, and she is.
then free to join herself to a new husband. Simply put, death changes relationships.

So the only way for a human being to come out from underneath the legal requirements of law as the means to righteousness is for either the law to be eliminated, which will never happen, or for the individual to experience death himself. Death would bring him out from under the authority of the law. Simple faith in Christ will place him in a new system by which righteousness might be pursued and attained. But in order to be freed from the law, the individual will have to die. This is true because death changes the legal standing of relationships.

Dead To The Law By The Body Of Christ
Since law is the first government or system of works that governs the route to righteousness, Paul’s marriage analogy indicates that every human being is legally married to the law and must meet its righteous demands or pay the penalty for failure to do so. We all start life’s journey married to law as the means of righteousness.

But Paul then states in Romans 7:4 that all believers have become dead to the law by the body of Christ. This statement simply means that my relationship to the law has experienced a definitive change. To be dead to the law does not mean that the law has been eliminated. Neither is it true that I no longer exist as a legitimate person. But what has been broken and what has been changed is my relationship to the law. How did this occur? When did this happen?

In Romans 6:3-5 we find the answer. The believing sinner, when first coming to Christ, is baptized into Christ. This union causes him to become one with Christ. In Galatians 2:20, Paul declares that he has been crucified with Christ.

Therefore, being baptized into Christ and being baptized into His death establishes the legal requirement of death that frees me from the authority and righteous demands of the law. The relationship to righteousness by the law has been legally severed by my union with Christ at the moment of salvation. The law still exists and the government of law still exists, but I am no longer accountable to the law as the means of righteousness. I have become dead to the law by the body of Christ.

Bringing Forth Fruit Unto God
The believer’s righteousness is not established by his works, but rather his righteousness is established by simple faith in Christ. At the moment of conversion, the believer is brought into a new government relative to the means of righteousness. He is planted firmly into the government of grace and is now accountable to the concepts and precepts of that system. It is only under grace that a believer might experience both imputed righteousness and the reality of righteousness in his everyday life.

Now we are no longer accountable to law as the means of righteousness, being justified by faith, but yet the righteous requirements of law, living right, is to remain a product of the salvation experience. The believer is justified at salvation. He is sanctified in the sense that he is set apart for God. And he is ready to make heaven his eternal home. But being free from the law as the means of righteousness does not mean that I am free to disobey the moral codes of God. In fact, a new creation man is more accountable to live righteous under grace than he was under law.

We plan to deal with this concept in our next article.

2017 developed into an exciting year for Bible prophecy enthusiasts. 2017 represented several milestone anniversaries for the nation of Israel.

God promised He would regather the nation of Israel in the last days. The First Zionist Council convened in Basel Switzerland 120 years ago in 1897. Zionism seeks to establish a home for the Jewish people in Eretz Yisrael—the Land of Israel—secured under public law. Theodore Herzl sought to prepare the Jewish people to fulfill what was in their hearts for nearly 2,000 years—their return to Israel, their chosen land. In Isaiah 11:1-12, Isaiah speaks to us that the second regathering of Israel out of the four corners of the earth will be an “ensign.” This word indicates it will be a signal of what God is doing at a particular time. Never before in history have Jews been regathered out of the four corners of the earth. We have seen the Hebrews taken out of Egypt in Moses’s time and the regathering of Jews from Babylon after 70 years of captivity. However, the Roman Empire’s dispersion of Jews in AD 70, and then in AD 135, scattered Jews throughout the world.

Balfour Declaration, November 2, 1917

World War I brought devastation to Europe, but it also changed the map of the Middle East. Many nations in the Middle East were part of the Muslim Ottoman Empire that had reigned for over 600 years. The tiny spit of land known today as Israel was part of the land governed by the Ottomans. Since the time of Jewish diaspora, Jerusalem suffered 44 besieges and multiple foreigner occupations. Although some Jews had always lived in the land, they lived under difficult conditions. The Balfour Declaration was named after British Foreign Secretary Arthur J. Balfour. He submitted a declaration of intent to establish a Jewish homeland in Israel (Palestine). In 1919, the Treaty of Versailles entrusted the British with the administration of Palestine through a system called the “Mandate.” For various reasons the recognition of the Jewish homeland in Israel was delayed. The promise was made but not fulfilled by the British.

Resolution 181, November 29, 1947

The name “United Nations,” coined by United States President Franklin D. Roosevelt, was first used in the Declaration by the United Nations on Jan. 1, 1942, during the Second World War, when representatives of 26 nations pledged their governments to continue fighting together against the Axis powers. On Oct. 24, 1945, 51 nations joined together to create the United Nations. The purpose of the UN is to maintain international peace and security, foster cooperation in solving international economic, social, cultural, and humanitarian problems; and promote respect for human rights and fundamental freedoms. Woodrow Wilson’s concept and idea of creating a League of Nations—an organization conceived in similar circumstances during the First World War and established in 1919 under the Treaty of Versailles “to promote international cooperation and to achieve peace and security”—would now be a reality.

The realization of 6 million Jews destroyed in the Holocaust fostered a need to resolve the conflict in the Middle East that was left unresolved by the British during the Mandate years. The United Nations Partition Plan for Palestine was a proposal by the United Nations, which recommended a partition of Mandatory Palestine (Israel) at the end of the British Mandate. On Nov. 29, 1947, the UN General Assembly adopted the plan as Resolution 181(II). Harry Truman threw the weight of the United States behind the plan by voting in favor of it. With passage by the UN, Israel was soon set to establish her reborn independence. Under great opposition by the Muslim Arabs to annihilate her, Israel would fight the birth pangs and declare her independence on May 14, 1948.

The Six-Day War, June 5-10, 1967

Ever dissatisfied with the United Nations resolution that created a Jewish state, the Pan-Arab Muslim nations never accepted Israel and sought to destroy her, as they tried in 1948. Israel’s triumphant victory enabled her to take possession of Jerusalem. From 1948 until the Six-Day War, the country of Jordan illegally occupied Jerusalem and the West Bank, known in the Bible as Judea. During Jordan’s occupation there were no dissenting voices in the world of its illegal occupation. The Arab Islamic nations failed in war to retake the land. After the 1967 war, they would adopt a new strategy. They would use propaganda and make the Arab Palestinians appear to be victims and gain world sympathy by their obstinate occupying landlords—Israel.

Psalm 83

The United Nations passed Resolution 242 after the Six-Day War in an effort to establish a just and lasting peace between Israel and the nations of Egypt, Jordan, Lebanon, and later, Syria. On Oct. 6, 1973, hoping to win back territory lost to Israel during the third Arab-Israeli war, in 1967, Egyptian and Syrian forces launched a coordinated attack against Israel on Yom Kippur, the holiest day in the Jewish calendar. Taking the Israeli Defense Forces by surprise, Egyptian troops swept deep into the Sinai Peninsula, while Syria struggled to throw occupying Israeli troops out of the Golan Heights. Israel counterattacked and recaptured the Golan Heights. A ceasefire went into effect on Oct. 25, 1973. Another United Nations resolution was passed—Resolution 338. I used to think that Psalm 83 was a specific war to occur in the future. I am now persuaded that it is a timeframe that began from the independence of Israel until now. The nations of the world that have sought to cut Israel off from being a nation by military power, but since their failures, they have endeavored to cut Israel off from being a nation through peace, with nearly two-thirds of the United Nations resolutions being against Israel. It is as though the very creation of this organization and existence have been about the Israeli and Palestinian issue.

Jerusalem

President Donald Trump recognized the capital of Israel as Jerusalem on Dec. 6, 2017! The year of Israel’s convergence of anniversaries! Immediately after his decision, the Islamic Arab nations of the world expressed their dissatisfaction. Their “confederate” efforts to cut Israel off from being a nation were now diminishing. The Islamic Arab majority UN Security Council cast a vote to condemn Trump’s decision. Subsequently, after a veto from the United States, the General Assembly of the UN voted 128-to-9 against Trump’s decision to recognize Jerusalem as Israel’s capital city. The majority of the world stands in opposition to Israel. Only a few nations stand by her. I am proud of President Trump’s decision to stand for God. Because it is only those who hate God that seek to cut Israel off from being a nation. God bless America!
Have you ever been so down that you thought you would never, could never, get up? Or been so sad that you thought you would never experience joy again? Many a child of God has experienced tragedy and sorrow, but they have been encouraged in the Lord.

I Shall Now Perish
One of the darkest times in David’s life came as a result of a wrong decision. “And David said in his heart, I shall now perish one day by the hand of Saul: there is nothing better for me than that I should speedily escape into the land of the Philistines; and Saul shall despair of me, to seek me any more in any coast of Israel: so shall I escape out of his hand” (I Sam. 27:1).

Forgotten Promises
David forgot the promises of God. He forgot that God had chosen him to be king over Israel. The statement “I shall now perish” indicates the extent that David had despaired. He did what many Christians have done when faced with difficult times—he ran to the world instead of running to God. The one who beheaded the champion of the Philistines ran to the Philistines for help. Such irony!

What Would David Do?
The Philistines gathered together their armies to fight the Israelites (I Sam. 29:1-2). “This was not a high point of David’s life to date. Actually, it would be the lowest and most wretched to this moment. It would seem that he would profess himself ready and eager to fight against God’s beloved people, and to help Satan destroy them!” (The Expositor’s Study Bible notes, I Sam. 29:5).

Achish Refused David’s Help
Even in David’s darkest time, God intervened on his behalf. Achish refused David’s offer to go and fight the Israelites. As David and his men returned to Ziklag, they found that the Amalekites had attacked their camp and taken their wives and children captive. This brought David further into the abyss of anguish. “David was greatly distressed; for the people spoke of stoning him, because the soul of all the people was grieved, every man for his sons and for his daughters” (I Sam. 30:6).

Recap
Let’s recap. David fled King Saul who was trying to kill him. He escaped to the Philistines who were now assembling together to attack Israel. He almost went to battle with the Philistines against God’s people. He returned home to find his camp burned and the wives and children of his men taken captive. To cap it all off, David’s own men were planning to take his life. David was definitely in the depths of despair!

Encouraged In The Lord
Yet, in the midst of the darkest discouragement, despair, and desperation, David called on the Lord. “But David encouraged himself in the Lord his God” (I Sam. 30:6). He did what he should have done from the very beginning.

Encourage Yourselves In The Lord
Some of you are experiencing despair. You may be thinking that you will never smile again. Sickness, sadness, loss of finances, or loss of loved ones may bring on despair, discouragement, and desperation, but you don’t have to live it. Follow David’s example and encourage yourself in the Lord.

An Empty Cross
There’s an empty Cross. There’s a risen Saviour. He is standing with outstretched arms. Call on Him. Jesus said, “I am come that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly” (Jn. 10:10). Discouragement, despair, and desperation does not sound like “more abundant life.” So trade in your sorrows for the joy of the Lord, and encourage yourselves in the Lord.

Most people do not think they are at war with Satan, but Satan is at war with everyone, especially Christians.

In Genesis 3:15, God says there will be enmity (war or hatred) between Satan and the woman, and between Satan's followers and Christ, which includes believers, since they are in Christ. Satan also comes trying to steal, kill, and destroy from everyone (Jn. 10:10). As a result, most people are defeated and are his prisoners of war since they do not know how to have victory over sin and Satan.

The following are examples of the numbers per year in the United States of those who are defeated and are Satan's prisoners of war in the following categories:

- 38 million who are in bondage to alcohol
- 22 million drug addicts.
- 1.3 million who attempt suicide, and 40,000 who take their own lives
- 28,000 viewers of Internet porn every second
- Those who sexually abuse one out of three girls and one out of five boys before they reach the age of 18
- Those who sexually, physically, or verbally abuse or neglect 1 million children annually
- Those who cause 4.7 million women to be victims of domestic violence annually
- 3 million addicted to gambling
- 33.8 million adults who smoke or chew tobacco and 440,000 who die annually as a result.
- 17 percent of children and 37 percent of adults who are obese

These are some pretty obvious examples, and some of them are Christians who are struggling to overcome sin. But there are many who are struggling and losing to less obvious sins such as fear, anger, depression, unforgiveness, and selfishness.

When the Assyrians would capture prisoners of war, they would put a ring or hook through the lower lips of the defeated soldiers so they could lead them around. The Babylonians put a ring or hook through the noses of prisoners of war. After prisoners of war were shown off in the triumph of a victorious Roman general (see last month's article), half of them were killed and the other half became slaves. All of this is similar to how Satan uses and abuses his prisoners of war.

The reason Christians have become prisoners of the war with Satan is because they are fighting the wrong war, and they are trying to fight Satan and sin the wrong way. Christians are not to fight against sin because the power of sin is greater than their greatest strength. God told Paul that the power of Christ could only help him when he realized how weak he himself was, and that he had to totally depend on Christ so God's power could work in and through him (II Cor. 12:9).

In realizing their helplessness and understanding that they do not have to turn to hopelessness, Christians can say yes to the hope that is only available in Christ. Besides that, the power of sin was already broken on the Cross, so believers do not have to keep fighting that battle.

Therefore, their weapons are not carnal (II Cor. 10:4), or something they can produce themselves and use to accomplish their victory. Their battle is not against acts of sin, but the fight is to keep their faith in who Christ is and what He did on the Cross, so they stay in His death, burial, and resurrection and are, therefore, victorious. That is the only way they are triumphant in Christ (II Cor. 2:14). And that is the only way He can work in them both to will (change their desires), and to do (give them the power of the Holy Spirit) (Phil. 2:13), so they can overcome sin. This is the only way believers can yield themselves as God's servants (slaves) of obedience instead of being slaves to sin unto death (Rom. 6:16).

A believer can know he is a prisoner of war if he is repeatedly committing sins, such as works of the flesh (Gal. 5:19-21), or he is missing some of the fruit of the Spirit (Gal. 5:22-23).

Next month, we will look at the greatest prisoner of war of all time.

For every commentary that you order, we’re going to give, as a special bonus, the book, Rape Of A Nation. This is a book that every citizen of the United States should read, but perhaps more importantly, one that every Christian must read. This book sounds a clarion call to awaken believers to the realization that the only answer for America is Jesus Christ and Him crucified. (Over 400 pages, hardcover.) Now is your opportunity to get it—absolutely free of charge!

Likewise, every single believer needs to have a set of these commentaries. They will help you to understand the Word of God as never before. If you can only get one volume each month, then you ought to do that. As well, these would make excellent gifts for anyone’s Christian library.

All commentaries average approximately 500 pages, and with every commentary purchased, you will receive a bonus, as stated, the book, Rape Of A Nation.

Happy Birthday To Me

I must confess to you, I don’t feel like I’m 83 years old. That’s what the calendar says, so I guess that’s the way it is. The Lord has given both Frances and me par excellent health, for which we are so everlastingly thankful.

To be frank, I have asked the Lord to give both of us 10 more years to finish this task, to finish this course, to touch this world for Christ just one more time. Of course, I’m speaking of hundreds of thousands of people coming to Christ, and many thousands also being baptized with the Holy Spirit, plus a great work for God carried out in the hearts and lives of untold thousands. I believe the Lord is going to do it, and in fact, in a sense, He has already begun.

What The Lord Said To Me

Back in 1992, I think in the month of January, the Lord spoke to my heart about what we are now seeing. Presently, there is a spiritual drought around the world. Yes, there are some people being saved, and some people being baptized with the Holy Spirit, but it’s not nearly as many as it was back in the 1980s, etc. However, the Lord spoke to my heart and told me that if I would persevere, in other words continue to believe Him—and to believe Him for great and mighty things—then He would do mighty things. So, I am expecting a move of God in the very near future, unparalleled in human history. In other words, I believe it will be the greatest move of God, resulting in more people being saved and more people being baptized with the Holy Spirit than the world has ever previously known as far as numbers are concerned.

I Need You

I need you to believe with me! I need you to stand with us! I need you to exercise faith toward that for which I have just stated! Not only do I need your prayerful support, I need your financial support as well, as I think should be obvious. How so much I thank so many of you for being so faithful to the work of God.

There are two sets of books in the portals of glory (Rev. 20:12). The first one is the Book of Life, which carries the name of every single born-again believer who has ever lived. The second book has to do with everything about us. In other words, a record is kept of everything both good and bad.

Let me dwell on that which is good: Every prayer that you pray for this ministry, every dollar that you give to help us touch a lost world, and every person that you minister to and tell about the SonLife Broadcasting Network—a record is kept in glory of every single thing that is done. Now I realize that some would ask as to how such could be done. Well, of course with man such is impossible, but with God all things are possible.

In fact, to show you how minute this is, how a record is kept on everything, Jesus said, “Are not two sparrows sold for a farthing, and one of them shall not fall on the ground without your Father. But the very hairs of your head are all numbered” (Mat. 10:29-30).

Can you imagine the hairs on the head of every person in the world numbered, even on a daily basis? So, thank you so very, very much, for all of you who stand with us, even on a daily basis. It means more than I have words to say.

The Great-Granddaughters

The other day Sam, Abby, and CC were in a store looking at a rack of Bibles, which were for sale.

Abby spoke up and stated that if it didn’t have the word holy in front of Bible, that we shouldn't buy it. Sam spoke up and said, “It also had better be KJV.” Abby asked as to what KJV meant, and Sam hastily stated, “King James Version.”

Then CC, who is the ripe old age of 4, spoke up and stated, “And it must have a Cross on the front of the Bible.”

To be sure, they were not very far wrong on all counts.

I did not know that Sam knew what a King James Version was, but evidently she does.

Are You Getting Ready For Campmeeting?
The dates are March 28 through April 1. It’s going to be a little bit of heaven on earth, and, if at all possible, you should make your plans right now to be with us.

I personally believe that our last camp had a spiritual depth to it that we have not previously experienced, and for which we give the Lord all the praise and all the glory.

Israel of old was commanded by the Lord some three times a year to go to Jerusalem for particular meetings. It was mandatory that they go. We have three giant conventions every year here at Family Worship Center. I’m speaking of our Resurrection Campmeeting, the Crossfire International Youth Conference in July, and our Thanksgiving Campmeeting.

I know that most of you cannot be with us because of the distance, but for those of you who can, you should do your best to try to be in all three camps. It’s something that we need, and I’m speaking of a spiritual refreshing. I believe I can say that this is exactly what we will expect, and exactly what we will get in this coming Resurrection Campmeeting. Be with us, if it’s at all possible for you to do so. You won’t be disappointed!

What Do You Want For Your Birthday?
That is easy!

I want to see more souls saved, more believers baptized with the Holy Spirit, more lives changed by the power of God, and more broken hearts healed. That’s what I want, and that’s what I believe the Lord is going to give me.

Again, thank you for your prayers, your support, and your standing with us to touch this world for Christ. Your help means more than you’ll ever know, at least until you stand before the Lord, and I believe your reward will be great.

In the Master’s service, yours,

Jimmy Swaggart

Joseph
Joseph takes you back to the ancient history of Genesis; back to the beginning when God was raising up his chosen people through promises He made to the patriarchs—Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob. This is the story of Jacob’s son, Joseph, whose actions and reactions after being sold into slavery by his brothers mirror the compassion, grace, and love of the Master, the Lord Jesus. In these pages, you’ll find the meaning of Joseph’s coat of many colors, his God-given dreams and interpretations, and his miraculous journey from the pit of slavery to the palace of Egypt—all part of God’s plan for his life. Every believer can learn from studying the life of Joseph, a type of Christ, who demonstrated to his own family true forgiveness, acceptance, and restoration.

Noah
Noah walked with God, the Bible says, and he was just and perfect in his generations—his lineage. Noah also found grace in the eyes of the Lord, which happens to be the very first time that the word grace is mentioned in the Word of God. So, what was it like for Noah to hear the Lord say that He would destroy all flesh on the earth? God told Noah, and Noah alone, that the flood was coming. For decades, the people around Noah watched his struggle to build an ark based on pure faith in God. Still standing on dry ground, they mocked the man of God while eating, drinking, and refusing to heed Noah’s warning that rain was coming. Then, just as God said, the flood came. Great Women Of The Bible, New Testament
This volume looks into the lives of New Testament women who made phenomenal contributions to the plan and work of God. Nearly 200 pages are dedicated just to the story of Mary—from her lineage in the house of David to her miraculous role as the mother of our Lord. Even so, Mary’s humble response to God’s favor was, “Behold, the handmaiden of the Lord.” In this book, Brother Swaggart also explores the tremendous faith of these women: Mary Magdalene, who announced the resurrection of Jesus Christ; Mary and Martha, who watched Him raise their brother Lazarus from the dead; Phebe and the elect lady, and Lydia, who hosted the first church in her home. Two chapters also address the roles of women in the home and in the church. (Over 490 pages, hardcover)

Brother Swaggart, Here Is My Question About The Holy Spirit
The Lord told Zechariah that everything done for the Him on earth was done by the power of the Holy Spirit: “Not by might, nor by power, but by My Spirit, says the LORD of Hosts.” That means miracles—the parting of the Red Sea, the collapse of Jericho’s walls, and the deathblow to Goliath—were all done by the power of the Holy Spirit. From Genesis until now, everything done by our Lord has been done through the power, office, ministry, and person of the Holy Spirit. But how does He do it? How does the Holy Spirit work in Christian lives? In this book, Brother Swaggart addresses these questions and more as he stresses the need for believers to know, understand, and be filled with the Holy Spirit. (304 pages, hardcover)

SBN and Amazon Fire TV and Fire Stick

We are excited to announce that SBN is now available on Amazon Fire TV and Amazon Fire Stick. The Amazon Fire TV Stick is a small device the size of a USB flash drive that plugs into a HDTV’s HDMI port. The Fire TV Stick enables a HDTV to stream content, such as our SBN Now app, over a WiFi connection with Internet access.

To download the SBN Now APP, go to www.amazon.com

We’re proudly broadcasting around the globe. Stay tuned as we strive to bring the Message of the Cross to more homes worldwide.
